DOWNHILL TRACK

This is the most spectacular and exciting MTB discipline, a true race against the clock and against gravity.

The Black Snake track in Commezzadura is known throughout the MTB world as one of the most challenging tracks of all: a 540 m drop along this 2.400 m track, with an average 22 % slope gradient that reaches 40% in certain sections! The track begins with a fast flow section, a thrilling road gap and several long jumps. Here, the track enters right into the wood, where the most feared features of the Black Snake begin: rocks, roots, steep slopes and hair-raising sections that cut right through the forest. For the 2017 World Cup Finals, the track has been modified making it even more exciting and thrilling, new lines that put riders' skills to the test. The last section, called "The Hell", a wall of rocks and roots before the Pippo Jump has not been changed, where the most fearless will take a 20 m dive into the air!

Pippo Marani, who designed the Black Snake track, has also been assisted by Cristian Vender, trail builder that designed the trails of the Val di Sole bike parks: Ponte di Legno, Passo del Tonale and Commezzadura.

The downhill races will take place on Saturday August 26th.

4X TRACK

An elimination competition between groups of four riders that challenge each other on a 600 m track with a 90 m drop, full of jumps, artificial obstacles, and banked turns that resemble freestyle skiing. This is a highly spectacular discipline that can be seen at its best with the world champ track in Commezzadura, located next to the final section of the legendary Black Snake downhill track. This track has two strongpoints: the famous Pro Line section, designed just for the world's top athletes thanks to three long challenging double jumps, and an artificial lighting system that is perfect for night competitions. For the third year in a row the Four-Cross World Championships are back in Val di Sole.

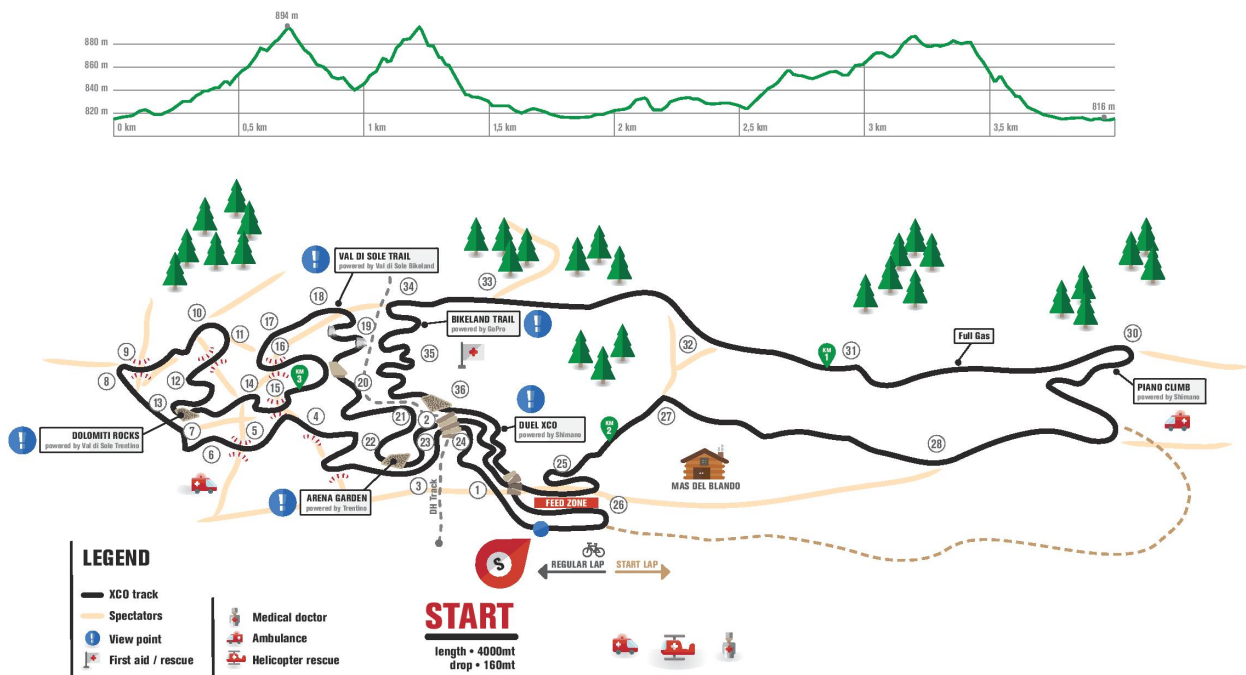

The track, which has just been modified, will enhance the skills of the over 100 athletes that will battle it out on the longest track of the 4X Pro Tour circuit. These adrenaline-filled races as riders compete right down to the very last jump, will take place on Friday night August 25th.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

The most traditional and classic of all the mountain biking disciplines and the most well-known among mountain biking enthusiasts. During an XCO race (Cross-country Olympic) all athletes start off together and continue to repeat a 4 km loop with a 160 m drop on off-road terrain. The number of times that the loop is repeated depends on the race category. The track for the 2017 World Cup Final, which starts and ends in Daolasa, has been modified and a new section called “New School” has been added making the final descent of the athletes towards the finish area even more spectacular. The section that passes through the rip-roaring Four-Cross track has not been changed. The “Dolomiti Rocks” section, with natural features, has also been modified with spectacular sections passing right over rocky terrain, plus jumps, technical climbs and an increased number of areas where athletes can overtake each other. Spectators can see all of the action right from the giant screen located in the finish area in front of the stands. The XCO Races will take place in Daolasa on Sunday August 27th.
